PURPOSE & VISION

My purpose lies in having a profound impact on the future of healthcare. Despite our remarkable progress in medicine and technology, the complexities of the healthcare system are still ever-evolving; urging for radical transformation.

To help foster the next generation of medical breakthroughs and advancements, and massively improve healthcare for every human being. I've partnered with stakeholders, entrepreneurs, and small business owners to help facilitate funding and investments for medical startups.

On my quest to deliver a better tomorrow, I am also leveraging my medical expertise as a consultant for corporations spanning the medical device, pharmaceutical, and skincare spaces.

At the intersection of healthcare and technology comes limitless possibilities for digital disruption and innovation. From virtual reality in the operating room to predictive modeling via machine learning, we have only just begun to scratch the surface on improving patient outcomes. By engaging in a shared purpose, we can turn obstacles into opportunities and improve the well-being of all people across the globe.

Currently, I am the Co-Owner & Managing Partner of HKB Cosmetic Surgery, located in North Carolina. I have a genuine desire to bolster the efficacy of not only reconstructive and cosmetic surgery, but the entire medical community as a whole.

Contact me to discuss working with me as a panelist, consultant, speaker, or a thought leader of health tech, plastic surgery, or industry growth. Have a breakthrough of development in health tech? Contact me to discuss investment possibilities.
